Some artists want us to remember that NOTHING is permanent...

Question for scholarly research:
What materials do artists use to create ephemeral art?

Sub-question for artistic research:
What do I see every day that seems permanent, but isn’t?